

Published in Seattle Weekly
By Voracious, November 12, 2012

Seattle's Top 10 New Restaurants

7. Restaurant Marché

Former Canlis executive chef and James Beard award-winning food writer Greg Atkinson gets his first chance to run the show at Marché, which he opened with the backing of fellow Bainbridge Islanders. The casually classy bistro melds French techniques and Northwest ingredients, often to stunning effect. The very best plates feature plants, perhaps a vestige of the year Atkinson spent planning to open a high-end vegetarian restaurant which never materialized.

Source URL: http://blogs.seattleweekly.com/voracious/2012/11/seattles_top_10_new_restaurant.php?page=2